Introduction

This report provides a statistical description of offenders committed to Massachusetts county facilities (jails and houses of correction) during 1993. Included in this report is information about the county facilities and their operating expenditures. Offenders are described in terms of commitment institution, month of commitment, committing court, offense, sentence length, sentence type (week-end and jail sentences), sex, age, race, marital status, education, place of birth, and residence. Trends in court commitments to the county correctional system over the past decade are also presented. The statistical tables were derived from information submitted by each county facility to the Operations Unit of the Research Division in the Department of Correction and were produced on the DOC's VAX Computer System.

When referring to the statistical tables, the reader should note the following: (1) the total population is sub-divided by commitment institution, (2) the left number in each cell represents the total number of offenders committed to a particular institution who fall into the corresponding category in that row of the table; and (3) the right number in each cell (the number contained in parentheses) is the percent distribution of the number of offenders who fall into each category (column percents). In the narrative, percentages reflect only those cases where data were available. Cases with missing data were excluded. For example, on page nine, Month of Commitment is presented and the following types of information can be obtained:

(1) The total number of offenders is broken down by commitment institution, and these are labeled and presented horizontally across the top of the table;

(2) The specific months are labeled and presented vertically;

(3) Of the 15,978 offenders committed during 1993, 2,501 were committed to the Middlesex County facility;

(4) Of the 2,501 offenders committed to Middlesex County, eleven percent (N=264) were committed in January.

County Facilities in Massachusetts

There are fourteen counties in Massachusetts. All counties except for Nantucket County have at least one county correctional facility administered by the county sheriff.

These facilities usually contain a jail, for pre-trial detainees, and a house of correction, for sentenced inmates. The location and administrators of all facilities are shown in Appendix I. Suffolk County has a separate facility for its jail (Nashua Street) and its house of correction (South Bay). Middlesex County has two facilities, a combined jail and house of correction in Billerica and a jail in Cambridge. Four counties have specialized facilities for sentenced offenders: Essex County has the Correctional Alternative Center (CAC) in Lawrence; Hampden County has the Western Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (WMCAC) facility in Springfield; Bristol County has the Eastern Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (EMCAC); and Norfolk County has the Braintree Alternative Center. Individuals are not committed directly to these four facilities, but can be transferred to them from a house of correction or a state correctional facility.

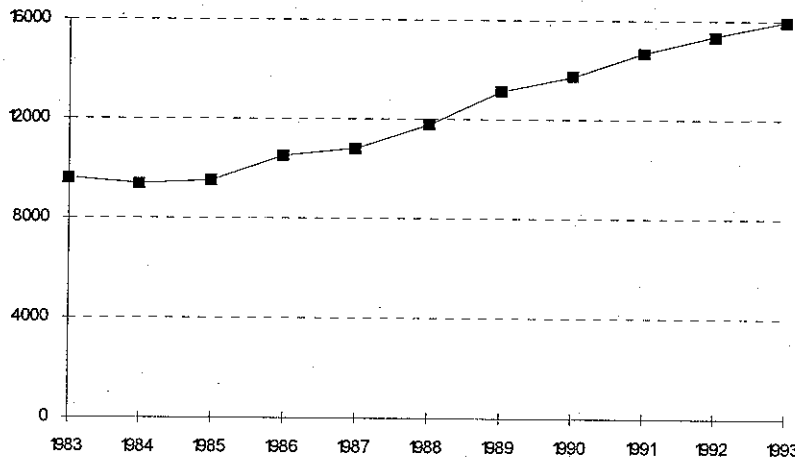

The operating expenditures for each county facility, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1993, are shown in Appendix II. These include expenses for salaries, food, utilities and other expenses.

The population in county correctional facilities for the period January 1, 1993 to December 31, 1993 is shown in Appendix III. This includes the average daily population (ADP), beginning and ending population, design capacity, and average daily population divided by design capacity, which is an indicator of facility utilization.

Commitments to County Correctional Facilities, 1983 to 1993

During 1993 there were 15,978 commitments to county facilities. This is a 4 percent increase from the 15,373 commitments in 1992, and a 66 percent increase from the 9,617 commitments in 1983. Commitments to county facilities for the last eleven years are shown in Figure 1.

County
Commitments,
1983 to 1993

The largest increase in commitments during this eleven year span came between 1988 and 1989 when there was an increase of 12 percent or 1,364 commitments.

Table 1 shows selected characteristics of offenders committed to the county correctional system during the six year period 1988 to 1993. During this six year period, the number of commitments increased by 36 percent or 4,225 from 11,753 in 1988 to 15,978 in 1993.

The offenses for which individuals were committed changed over the last six years. Between 1988 and 1993, increases occurred for all offense categories except OUI, which showed a decrease of 20 percent (N=492). During the 1988-93 period, commitments for drug offenses increased by 65 percent (N=958); commitments for person offenses increased 117 percent (N=1,600); commitments for motor vehicle offenses increased by 42 percent (N=676); commitments for other offenses increased by 43 percent (N=656); commitments for property offenses increased by 26 percent (N=794); and commitments for sex offenses increased by 13 percent (N=33).

Figure 2 shows that the distribution of sentence length shifted upward over the past six years. In 1988, 34 percent of commitments received a sentence of one month or less (including fines); and in 1993, 29 percent of all commitments had a sentence of one month or less. In 1988, 41 percent of all commitments received a sentence of six months or more; and in 1993, 51 percent of all commitments received a sentence of six months or more.

County Commitments,
1988 and 1993

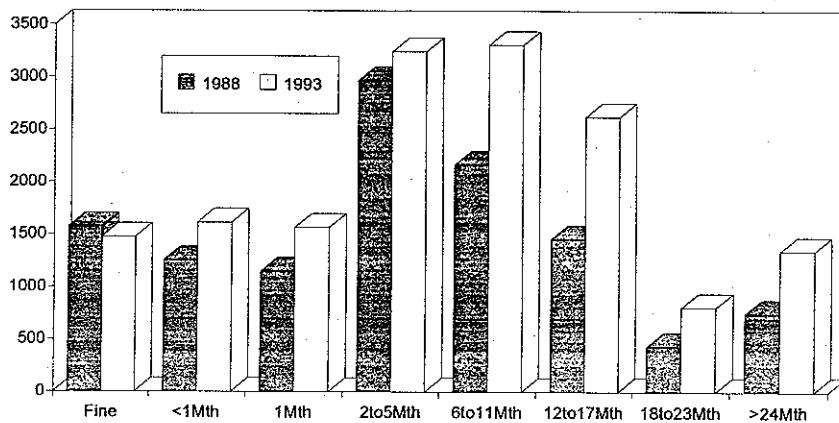

Figure 3 reveals that the age distribution of county commitments also shifted upward over the last six years. In 1988, 38 percent of the commitments were 24 years or younger and 62 percent were 25 years or older. In 1993, 30 percent of the commitments were 24 years or younger and 70 percent were 25 years or older.

A Description of 1993 Commitments

In this section the 15,978 offenders committed to county facilities during 1993 are described in more detail. Characteristics of the present offense are noted followed by a summary of personal background characteristics of the county offender population. Information for each institution for these variables is included in the following tables.

Present Offense Characteristics

Figure 4.
1993 Commitments by
County

Committing Institution. Figure 4 shows the number of commitments ranging from a low of 35 in Dukes County to a high of 2,501 in Middlesex County.

Seven of the fourteen counties received more than 1,000 commitments in 1993: Middlesex (N=2,501), Suffolk (N=2,462), Worcester (N=2,255) Hampden (N=1,931), Bristol (N=1,794), Essex (N=1,429), and Norfolk (N=1,060). These seven counties accounted for 84 percent of all county commitments in 1993.

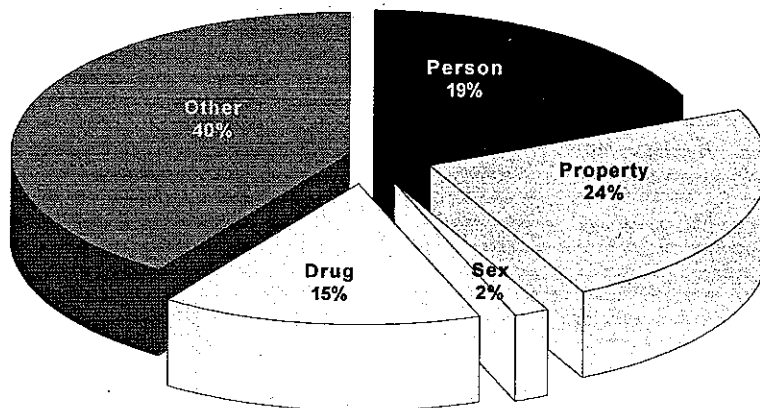

Committing Court. Most offenders committed to county facilities are sentenced by the lower courts of the county to which they are committed. Ninety-five percent of the commitments were from lower courts and 5 percent were from superior courts.

Present Offense. Most offenders committed to county facilities were sentenced for non-violent offenses (80 percent); 20 percent were committed for violent offenses, those against the person or sex offenses.

Nineteen percent of the commitments were for person offences. Most of these were for unarmed assault (assault or assault and battery) (N=1,675) or armed assault (assault and battery with a dangerous weapon or assault with a dangerous weapon) (N=1006). There were 33 commitments for vehicular homicide.

Two percent of the commitments were for sex offenses (N=285) including 31 for rape, 190 for assault with intent to rape (which includes assault with intent to rape a minor), and 64 for other sex offenses (e.g., unnatural acts, lewdness, indecent exposure and sexual misconduct). Of the 221 commitments for rape and sexual assault, 137 involved minors as victims and 84 involved adults as victims.

Figure 5.
Offence Type, 1993
County Commitments

Twenty-four percent of all commitments were for property offenses. The most common property offenses were: burglary (N=1,259), larceny (N=843), receiving stolen goods (N=586), stealing (N=322), property injuries (N=225), and larceny from a person (N=219).

Fifteen percent of the commitments were for drug offenses. The majority (97%) of these drug offenses were for violation of the Controlled Substance Act with Class A, Class B, or Class D substance (N=2,080).

Forty percent of all commitments were for offenses in the "other" offense category. Most of these commitments were for motor vehicle violations (N=2,284) and O.U.I. (N=1,980). Other common offenses in this category were disturbing the peace (N=323), weapons (N=291), and contempt of court (N=163).

Sentence. The median sentence length for 1993 commitments was six months. In general, offenders sentenced for less than two months will serve their entire sentence, and offenders sentenced for two months or more will be eligible for parole after half of their sentence is served. Nine percent of the commitments (N=1,475) were in lieu of payment of a fine. County sentences range up to two and one-half years, but in a small number of cases, offenders can serve consecutive sentences of two and one half years or less, such that the total length of sentence will be more than two and one half years.

Some sentences are served only on weekends, one percent of all commitments were weekend sentences (N=147). Weekend sentences were used most extensively in Franklin county (7 percent) and Worcester county (7 percent).

Personal Background Characteristics

Age. The age of offenders ranged from 16 years to 81 years. The median age was 28 years. There were 1,841 offenders (12 percent) age 20 years or younger and 36 (less than one percent) age 65 and over.

Sex. Of the 15,978 commitments to county facilities, there were 542 females and 15,436 males. Most females that received a county sentence were sent to MCI-Framingham, the state correctional facility for female offenders.

Race/Ethnicity. The majority of offenders were Caucasian (62 percent). Twenty-one percent were African American and 16 percent were Hispanic. There were 191 individuals (one percent) in other racial groups. Suffolk County house of correction was the only facility where the majority of commitments were non-Caucasian: (54 percent African American, 29 percent Caucasian, 16 percent Hispanic, and 1 percent "other").

Marital Status. Most offenders were single (73 percent). Fifteen percent were married at the time of commitment and 13 percent were separated, divorced or widowed.

The average 1993 County Commitment was a twenty-eight year old single, caucasian male with an twelfth grade education, who was born and resides in Massachusetts.

Education. The median educational level was 12th grade. Eight percent had only a grade school education (first through eighth grade), 39 percent completed some high school and 42 percent were high school graduates with no further formal education. Eight percent had at least some college education and 3 percent reported having a college degree.

Place of Birth. Sixty-seven percent of all county commitments were born in Massachusetts, 18 percent were born in other states, 9 percent were born in U.S. territories and 5 percent were foreign-born. Bristol County had the highest proportion of foreign-born offenders (10 percent); Franklin County had the highest proportion born in other states (27 percent); Hampden County had the highest proportion of offenders born in U.S. territories (22 percent); and Berkshire County had the highest proportion born in the same county as the facility (62 percent).

Residence. As reported by the counties, all but 420 offenders committed to county facilities were residing in Massachusetts at the time of commitment. In most cases, the offenders were residing in the same county as the facility to which they were committed. Berkshire and Hampden Counties had the highest proportion of county residents (91 percent), and Norfolk County had the lowest proportion of county residents (51 percent).
