Abstract

This report is a statistical description of the 2,003 individuals committed by the courts to a term of incarceration in the Massachusetts Department of Correction during the year 1982. The tables in this report contain information on the nature of present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of these individuals. Some highlights of the statistics presented in this report are:

- There was an 18 percent increase in the number of commitments during the year, from 1,695 in 1981 to 2,003 in 1982.
- There were 728 commitments to Walpole (8 percent higher than 1981); 726 commitments to Concord (11 percent higher than 1981); and 549 commitments to Framingham (49 percent higher than 1981). The increase in commitments for females (Framingham) accounts for 59 percent of the total increase in commitments.
- The median minimum sentence for Walpole commitments was six years; the median maximum sentence for Concord commitments was ten years; and the median maximum sentence for Framingham commitments was less than 1 year. There was a decrease in median minimum sentence length for Walpole commitments, from seven years in 1981.
- Offenses against the person and sex offenses accounted for 51 percent of all commitments. Armed robbery was the single most common offense. There was a decrease in the proportion of commitments that were for violent offenses.
- The median age at commitment was 25 years, the same as prior years.
- Seventy percent of the commitment population were whites; 65 percent were single; 14 percent were in the military; 46 percent came from the Boston SMSA; most had limited work experience concentrated in the areas of manual labor and services; the median educational level was eleventh grade; and 30 percent had a self-reported history of drug use.
- Fifty two percent were serving their first adult incarceration, an increase from 45 percent in 1981. The median age at first court appearance was seventeen.

Introduction

This report is a statistical description of individuals committed by the courts to the Massachusetts Department of Correction during 1982. The tables in this report contain information on the nature of the present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of admissions from the courts. The information on which this report is based was prepared by the Data Processing Unit of the Research Division.

This report includes all new court commitments as well as those who began serving a new sentence during the year (forthwith and from and after sentences). If an individual was committed to the Department more than once during 1982, that individual is counted as multiple court commitments. Several categories of offenders are not included in this report: those who began serving "B" and "C" sentences during 1982 (sentences received for crimes committed on parole) and those who were sentenced during 1982 but were still in a house of correction awaiting placement in a DOC facility on January 1, 1983. There were 8 individuals awaiting placement on January 1, 1983.

The following information is helpful in reading the tables in this report. Each table is divided according to committing institution. Since each committing institution receives a very different type of offender, it is important to consider each column in the table as well as the total column. The top number in each cell represents the number of individuals who fall into the corresponding category in the table. The bottom number in each cell appears in parentheses and represents the percentage of the number of individuals in a particular category to the total number of commitments from that institution (column percents).

Number of Commitments

There were 2,003 commitments during 1982, an 18 percent increase from the previous year. Figure 1 shows the number of commitments for the period 1972 to 1982. The number of commitments during 1982 was higher than in any of the preceding ten years.

Individuals are committed to one of three institutions: Walpole, Concord or Framingham. Figure 2 shows the number of commitments to each committing institution for the period 1972 to 1982. The number of commitments during 1982 was higher than any of the preceding ten years for each of the committing institutions.

The increase in number of commitments was most dramatic for Framingham, increasing from 368 in 1981 to 549 in 1982, an increase of 181 or 49 percent.

In contrast commitments to Walpole increased by 55 or 8 percent and commitments to Concord increased by 72 or 11 percent. Overall female commitments accounted for 59 percent of the increase from 1981 to 1982.

Almost all of the increase in Framingham commitments came in the area of property offenses and "other" offenses. Commitments to Framingham for property offenses increased from 131 in 1981 to 210 in 1982; and commitments for "other" offenses increased from 113 in 1981 to 210 in 1982. The increase in commitments in the "other" category was largely due to increases in commitments for operating under the influence. Most of the increase in Framingham commitments were women serving county sentences. There were 282 women with county sentences committed in 1981 and 450 in 1982.

For male commitments, those committed to Walpole or Concord, the largest increase in admissions was in the categories of non-violent offenses. Commitments for property offenses increased from 215 in 1981 to 291 in 1982, an increase of 35 percent; commitments for drug offenses increased from 130 in 1981 to 166 in 1982, an increase of 28 percent; and commitments for "other" offenses increased from 26 in 1981 to 43 in 1982, an increase of 65 percent. In contrast commitments for person offenses decreased 2 percent and commitments for sex offenses increased by only 10 percent. Thus the continued increase in commitments to the Department of Correction is accounted for by large increases in female commitments and commitments of non-violent male offenders to Walpole and Concord.

A Description of 1982 Court Commitments

This section will present a general description of the population of individuals committed to the DOC during 1982. This description includes a discussion of the present offense, personal background characteristics and criminal history of the offender. Where appropriate, comparisons among the three committing institutions will be done.

Nature of Present Offense

In discussing the present offense of the commitment group, only the most serious offense, the offense for which the person received the longest sentence, is considered.

Court of commitment. Seventy-five percent of the commitments to the Department of Correction were from Superior Courts. Three courts, Suffolk Superior, Middlesex Superior and Worcester Superior, accounted for 42 percent of the commitments to the Department. All Walpole commitments came from Superior Courts and 95 percent of all Concord commitments came from Superior Courts. Only 17 percent of the commitments to Framingham were from Superior Courts; most commitments to Framingham were from municipal and district courts (municipal courts are lower courts of Suffolk County and district courts are lower courts of all other counties).

Jail Credits. Jail credits measure the amount of time that the individual spent incarcerated while awaiting trial. A large number of jail credits is usually indicative of a serious crime or a low income offender. Seventy-three percent of Walpole commitments had one or more days of jail credits. This contrasts with 63 percent of Concord commitments and 27 percent of Framingham commitments. The median number of days of jail credits for all commitments was 5.

Minimum Sentence. Only those individuals who receive a state prison sentence (all Walpole commitments and some Framingham commitments) receive a minimum sentence. Generally minimum prison sentences must be for two and one-half years or more but in some cases can be shorter (some drug offenses carry short prison sentences, for example). The median minimum sentence for Walpole commitments was six years. There were 21 commitments to Framingham who received prison sentences. The median minimum sentence for those women was 5 years.

Maximum Sentence. All individuals committed to the Department have a maximum sentence. For Concord commitments this is their only sentence. Generally maximum sentences to Concord are two and one-half years or longer but a short sentence can be given for some offenses such as larceny, escape and drug offenses. The median maximum sentence for Concord commitments was ten years. A large proportion of Framingham commitments received county sentences, those with a maximum length of less than two and one half years. Of the 549 commitments to Framingham, 21 (4 percent) received prison sentences, 78 (14 percent) received reformatory sentences and 450 (82 percent) received county sentences.

Type of Sentence. Most individuals committed to the Department received simple sentences (43 percent) or concurrent sentences (35 percent). Less frequently served are aggregate, forthwith, from and after sentences, or split sentences.

Offense. Type of offense varies by committing institution. Sixty-nine percent of the commitments to Walpole and 62 percent of the commitments to Concord were for person or sex offenses while 38 percent of commitments to Framingham were for property offenses and 38 percent were for offenses in the "other" category.

Offenses against the person accounted for 42 percent of all commitments to the Department. Armed robbery accounted for 17 percent of all commitments. There were 105 commitments for homicides in 1982 including 25 for first degree murder, 22 for second degree murder and 58 for manslaughter.

Property offenses accounted for 25 percent of all commitments to the Department, but 38 percent of the commitments to Framingham. Burglary was the most common property offense for Walpole and Concord commitments; larceny was the most common property offense for Framingham commitments.

Sex offenses accounted for 9 percent of all commitments to the DOC. There were 140 commitments for rape during 1982 and 42 commitments for assault with intent to rape. Additionally there were 2 commitments for unnatural acts and 1 commitment for incest during the year.

Drug offenses accounted for 11 percent of all commitments during 1982. The most common drug offense was a violation of the controlled substance act with a Class A substance.

Offenses in the "other" category accounted for 4 percent of Walpole commitments, 2 percent of Concord commitments and 38 percent of Framingham commitments. The most common offenses in this category were prostitution, disturbing the peace and operating under the influence. The 21 offenses labelled "other" include: trespass (N=9), failure to appear in court (N=3), contributing to delinquency of a child (N=3), accessory after the fact (N=2) and loitering, intimidating a witness, malicious explosion and conducting a lodging house without a license (1 each).

Time Until Parole Eligibility. An indication of how much time offenders will actually serve is the time until their parole eligibility date. About one-half of all offenders will be released at their original parole eligibility date. For Walpole commitments the median time to serve was from 3 to 5 years; for Concord commitments the median time to serve was from 10 to 12 months; and for Framingham commitments the median time to serve was less than three months.

Age at Incarceration. The median age at incarceration was 25 years. The age of new commitments ranged from 16 years to 68 years.

Personal Background Characteristics

In discussing the personal background characteristics of the commitment population, all information is reported according to the status of the offender at the time of commitment. Most of this information is self reported by the offender and is not verified in any way.

Sex. All Walpole and Concord commitments are males, all Framingham commitments are females. During 1982, 27 percent of the commitments were females and 73 percent were males.

Race and Ethnicity. Seventy percent of the 1982 commitment group were white and 29 percent were black. There were also 1 Native American and 3 Asians committed to the DOC. Nine percent of the commitment group are Hispanics. This included white hispanics, black hispanics and other hispanics.

Marital Status. Most of the commitment group were single (65 percent). Nineteen percent were married at the time of their commitment, 10 percent were divorced, 5 percent separated and 1 percent widowed.

Military History. Fourteen percent of the commitment group had a history of military service. Two-thirds of the known veterans were honorably discharged from military service.

Prior Address. Almost all commitments came from Massachusetts. Four counties (Suffolk, Worcester, Middlesex and Hampden) accounted for two-thirds of all commitments.

Occupation. Most of the individuals committed to the Department had previous work experience. This work experience was concentrated in the areas of manual labor (45 percent) and services (31 percent). The median length of tenure in a position was 7 to 9 months.

Education. The median educational level for this population was eleventh grade. Forty-two percent of the commitment group had completed high school, 10 percent had some college education.

Drug Use. Thirty percent of the commitments reported a history of prior drug use; 12 percent reported a history of heroin use. Drug use history was generally based on offender self reports or criminal history.

Criminal History

Information about the criminal history of individuals committed to the DOC is taken from reports prepared by the Board of Probation. These reports identify the number of court appearances and the offenses that the individual was charged with as well as disposition information. In this section the individual's history of court appearances, charges, incarcerations and paroles will be discussed.

Prior Court Appearances. The median number of prior court appearances was ten. Seventy-nine percent had court appearances for person offenses, 80 percent for property offenses, 17 percent for sex offenses, 47 percent for narcotics offenses, 23 percent for alcohol offenses and 10 percent for escape offenses.

Prior Incarcerations. Eighteen percent had a history of commitments to a juvenile authority; 37 percent had a history of incarcerations in a county facility; and 21 percent had a history of incarcerations in a state or federal facility. Fifty-two percent were serving their first incarceration as an adult.

Parole History. The number of paroles and parole violations that an individual experienced prior to this commitment are shown. About 18 percent of the commitment group experienced paroles in the past. Sixty percent of those with a history of paroles also had one or more parole violations.

Age at Entry into Criminal Justice System. Age of the individual at their first court appearance and their first court appearance for a drug related offense or for a drunkenness related offense are shown. The median age at the time of first court appearance was 17 years of age.
